Customer data is all data, including text, sound, video or image files, and software that you provide to Microsoft or that's provided on your behalf through your use of Microsoft enterprise online services. It includes customer</li> </ul>

		<ul> <li>content, which is the data you upload for storage or processing and apps that you upload for distribution through a Microsoft enterprise cloud service. For example, customer content includes Teams or SharePoint Online site content, Teams meeting recordings (participants will be notified where a call/meeting will be recorded prior to the recording starting), or instant messaging conversations.</li> <li>For MS Teams PSTN Telephone calls:         <ul> <li>The telephone number of the caller</li> <li>The telephone number of the callee</li> <li>Statistical data of the call such as start and end time, and duration</li> <li>Usage reports and logs related to calls, such as PSTN usage reports, PSTN blocked users reports, PSTN minute pool reports</li> <li>Call recording for internal PSTN calls. 9.	Time limit for keeping the data	All personal data relating to your EMA account will remain in the cloud storage until your EMA account has been deactivated, after which it will be permanently deleted from Microsoft's servers after a 30-day retention period. Deactivation occurs for staff and contractors based on the date of their departure from the Agency. For external users, deactivation occurs after 6 months of inactivity and after 14 months of inactivity for experts. Users are responsible for deleting any files that are no longer required in line with the principle of storage limitation. Once a user deletes any data from OneDrive, Outlook and Teams and SharePoint Online the data is retained for 30 days before it is purged. For SharePoint sites that are deleted, the retention period is 93 days as it goes
		<ul><li>through a lifecycle of two recycle bins.</li><li>Where a document is given the label 'record' a retention period will not be applied. The document owner will be responsible for manually deleting the document when it is no longer required.</li><li>Call recordings for internal PSTN calls are retained for 28 calendar days on a rolling basis after which time they are deleted.</li></ul>

		These sub-processors only have access to pseudonymised personal data.
		For more information on how Microsoft's sub-processors process your personal data please see the below:

		All data is stored in Microsoft data centres based in the EU, Microsoft will only access data where it is necessary to provide their services. For example, where assistance is required for technical support Microsoft may request remote screen sharing access. Remote screen sharing access is only requested for the purpose of helping to resolve technical issues and will always take place with the consent and in the presence of the data subject.
		No personal data are transmitted to parties outside the scope mentioned herein, and neither Microsoft nor EMA share personal data with any other third party for any other purpose (e.g., direct marketing).
11.	Are there any transfers of personal data to third	As regards the location of personal data for OneDrive, SharePoint Online, Teams and Outlook 365, all customer data is stored within the EU/EEA at rest.
	countries or international organisations ? If so, to which ones and with which safeguards?	Microsoft may temporally grant access to technical staff and sub-processors located outside EU/EEA where this is necessary to provide their services. Microsoft will only grant either pseudonymised personal data or pseudonymised personal identifiers to its sub-processors. Microsoft's sub- processors are required to maintain the confidentiality of data and are contractually obligated to meet strict privacy requirements. These subprocessors are also required to meet the requirements of the EUDPR, including those related to implementing appropriate technical and organisational measures to protect personal data. For the full list of sub- processors who may have access to data outside of the EU/EEA and their location, please see section 10 above.

		The only instance where access to any personal data is granted to Microsoft itself, from outside of the EU/EEA is in instances where assistance is required for technical support. Where this is the case, access is only granted to remote screen sharing sessions, which take place with the consent and in the presence of the data subject.
		In addition, as with all Microsoft products, Microsoft does not control or limit the regions from which the customer or its end users may access or move customer data. Therefore, where an end user travels to outside the EU/EEA and uses the services, personal data may be processed outside the EU/EEA to enable these users access to the online services from their location.
		All user data is stored and encrypted inside EU/EEA regardless if the users connect inside or outside of EU/EEA. For authentication purposes, to enable global access, servers may collect identity and authentication data from outside of the EU/EEA. However, this is true for all the MS 365 environment, and includes OneDrive, Teams, Outlook 365, and SharePoint.
		Microsoft has implemented measures for data transfers (e.g., Standard Contractual Clauses embedded in the Online Services Terms and additional GDPR-specific clauses in the Online Services Terms).

	security measures, where possible.	In order to protect your personal data, the EMA has put in place several strong contractual safeguards complemented by technical and organisational measures.
		Technical measures include appropriate actions to address online security, risk of data loss, alteration of data or unauthorised access, taking into consideration the risk presented by the processing and the nature of the personal data being processed. Organisational measures include restricting access to the personal data solely to authorised persons with a legitimate need to know for the purposes of this processing operation.
		Microsoft and their sub-processors also ensure technical and organisational measures are in place to protect the confidentiality, integrity and availability of data for more information see https://www.microsoft.com/en-gb/trust-center/privacy.
