Mandate, objectives and rules of procedure for the CVMP Antimicrobials Working Party (AWP)

1. General considerations

According to the Committee for Medicinal Products for Veterinary Use (CVMP) rules of procedure, the CVMP may consult its working parties on any scientific issue related to their specific fields of expertise. The CVMP may also delegate certain tasks associated with the scientific evaluation of applications, or drafting of guidelines to the relevant working parties. The tasks identified by the CVMP should be included in the work programme of each working party to be adopted by the CVMP.

The Antimicrobials Working Party (AWP) is therefore established to provide advice, on a consultative basis, to specific questions raised by the CVMP on all matters regarding authorisation and use of veterinary medicines containing antimicrobial substances.

The AWP carries forward the work initiated by the former CVMP Scientific Advisory Group on Antimicrobials (SAGAM).

2. Mandate and objectives

The AWP is established to provide advice to the Committee on all issues relating to antimicrobials, including but not limited to the tasks defined below:

- Advise the CVMP on matters related to preparation of guidelines on antimicrobials.
- Keeping the CVMP abreast of developments at European and international level on the latest scientific knowledge with regard to all developments concerning the use of antimicrobials and in particular resistance development.
- Provide advice on the need to exercise certain control on those classes of compounds of critical importance to human and animal medicine e.g. fluoroquinolones, 3rd- and 4th-generation cephalosporins and macrolides.
- Consider recommendations for the CVMP on the type of communication and its content regarding relevant issues of authorisation requirements of antimicrobials.
- Support dossier evaluation and referrals for antimicrobials as required by the CVMP.
- International cooperation on antimicrobial related issues.
3. Composition and rules of participation

The AWP is composed of a limited number of experts, ideally between 10 and 12 identified by the CVMP on the basis of their specific scientific expertise on basis of the subjects covered within the scope of the working party and based on nominations from the CVMP or the European Medicines Agency (EMA/the Agency).

In order to ensure that the mandate and objectives of the working party can be accomplished, the following areas of expertise are considered necessary:

- Microbiology
  - Methods of antimicrobial resistance detection and characterisation, interpretative criteria (breakpoints, cut-off values), MIC determination.
  - Surveillance and reporting of resistance.
  - Resistance patterns in zoonotic pathogens and indicators.
- Antimicrobial resistance risk assessment.
- Efficacy of antimicrobials (including PK/PD) in animals.
- Use of antimicrobials in different target animal species (especially poultry, pigs, cattle).
- Human and veterinary public health (“One Health” perspective) and infection control.

Membership of a working party implies a commitment to participate actively in the work of that working party and to attend the meetings of the working party regularly.

A member may nominate a replacement to participate in those exceptional cases where he or she is not able to attend a meeting.

Members who want to bring additional experts should notify the Secretariat of the Agency in advance to the meeting, subject to the agreement of the Chairperson.

Meeting documentation will be distributed to an agreed list of recipients drawn up by the Agency with the agreement of the Chairperson.

CVMP members are encouraged to take an active role in the activities of the AWP.
