EMA/HMA European Platform for Regulatory Science Research

Platform Participant meeting - Agenda

29 September 2025, 14:00 – 17:30 (CEST)

Virtual meeting / EMA, Amsterdam

The European Platform for Regulatory Science Research brings together academic researchers and regulatory scientists to advance research in regulatory science. Research in this field supports the development and evaluation of medicines.

The European Platform Regulatory Science Research Participant meeting aims to:

- Support scientists and researchers who are interested in activities that could help address regulatory science research needs
- Share best practices, emerging methodologies, and foster translation of research outcomes into useful solutions for developers and regulators
- Grow the community of researchers engaging on regulatory science research topics
