Did you know?

CTIS provides workload management tools so that sponsors and regulatory authorities can easily keep track of their clinical trial applications and tasks in CTIS.

Sponsors can use the 'Notices and alerts' tab to see information such as when the validation of the clinical trial application has been completed by the Reporting Member State (RMS) and when requests for information (RFIs) are due. Sponsors can also use the 'RFI' tab to keep track of all RFIs to be completed.

Regulatory authorities can use the 'Notices and alerts' and 'Tasks' tab to stay up to date on when their inputs are needed to e.g. to express willingness/unwillingness to be the RMS.

Helpful hint

When using the EMA Service Desk to get help with a CTIS issue, describing your issue accurately ensures the fastest solution. In Service Desk, there are three options:

- Ask a question: use this option when you need to discuss or clarify any general subject.
- Request a service: use this option if you need a standard service e.g. password reset, in the case where the user cannot reset using the standard 'Forgot password' process from the CTIS workspace login page.
- Report an issue: use this option when you are prevented from completing a task with CTIS due to a problem with the system.

Please ensure you give a clear and detailed description of your question, request or issue, attaching screenshots of the relevant sections of CTIS where possible.

Sponsor end user training programme: reminder

EMA offers a virtual training programme, with organisational support from DIA, to support sponsor users in learning how to use CTIS to submit clinical trial applications and manage clinical trials throughout their life cycle. The planned dates for the upcoming end user training programmes are:

- March course 01/03/2022 to 04/03/2022
- April course 05/04/2022 to 08/04/2022
- May course 10/05/2022 to 13/05/2022
- June course 20/06/2022 to 23/06/2022
